

Michelle Staten

powered by launch_code

ASPIRING BACKEND DEVELOPER IN ST. LOUIS, MO

PHONE 314-520-7125 | EMAIL mnstaten@yahoo.com

GITHUB github.com/mstaten | LINKEDIN linkedin.com/michelle-staten

Persistent, hard-working, avid learner with foundational experience in Java and Python. My passion for coding parallels my interest in math and German, as I am fascinated by the way things fit together and their relationship, whether they are numbers, foreign words and phrases, or programming concepts.

LANGUAGES

- Java
- Python
- JavaScript
- R
- HTML5/CSS3

TOOLS

- MySQL
- Spring
- Bootstrap
- Hibernate
- Thymeleaf

OTHER SKILLS

- German : literate and conversational
- Interpersonal and customer service skills

PROJECT EXPERIENCE

Local Reports — Web App: My Capstone Project for LaunchCode's LiftOff Program

- Users can submit reports of local road issues and concerns, including potholes, damage to street signs, flooded streets, etc. and can see a map populated with others' reports of local issues
- Administrators can mark reports as open, closed, or spam
- Java, Spring, Hibernate, Thymeleaf, MySQL, HTML, CSS, JavaScript
- This app uses the Google Maps API to pinpoint and save locations for each report
- github.com/mstaten/capstone

WORK EXPERIENCE

Sales Associate, Athleta, Chicago, IL, July 2016 – January 2019

Freelance Translator, Chicago, IL, June 2017 – June 2018

- Assisted Gerda Joseph in the English translation of Kirchliche Hilfe für verfolgte Juden und Jüdinnen im nationalsozialistischen Wien by Traude Litzka

Sales Associate, American Eagle, St. Louis, MO, June 2013 – August 2015

EDUCATION

LaunchCode, LiftOff Programming Course — 2019

LaunchCode, LC101 Programming Course — 2019

DePaul University, B.S. Mathematical Sciences, B.A. German Language — 2017

DePaul University, completed 7 programming courses covering Python, C, C++, R, and Assembly (x86-64) — 2017